Letters of Recommendation: Please provide a minimum of one letter of support from a school official, religious leader, current or former supervisor, or some other adult who is able to affirm your commitment, character, and overall potential for success if you were to receive the MMPP Scholarship Award.

Writing Sample: The Multicultural Media Producers Program is designed to cultivate the interest of students in the pursuit or a career in broadcast television as a news producer. At minimum a student is to complete a 500-word essay on one of the below listed topics:

Option 1: As a multicultural news producer how would you strive for greater representation in the media when coverage is aimed at people and communities of color?

Option 2: What advantages do you see in the existence of a more diverse newsroom in media representation as a whole?

In addition to the required essay students have the option of submitting one writing sample or a weblink to any single media project or resume reel that showcases any past work done in conjunction with media programs at the high school or collegiate level, the audio-visual department of a religious organization, or any other community-based media. (Note: The lack of prior media experience will not exclude a student from consideration because there will be work-based learning opportunities in the MMPP)
